London: printed for T. Osborne and S. Griffin, 1795. 2v.; 16° The Social Question James Stewart 2017-11-13 This book is a First Edition, never before translated into English, series of six lectures. Rudolf Steiner gave these lectures early in the year of 1919 at Zurich, Switzerland. Here Steiner proffers ideas to solve the social problems and necessities required by life, by studying the life sciences and social life, and the living conditions of the present-day humans. He expresses how the social will should be the basis of a new scientific order, and what the role of the modern worker should be. These six lectures are a translation from the German edition "Die soziale Frage," (Bn/GA Number 328 in the Bibliographical Survey, 1961), published by the Rudolf Steiner-Nachlassverwaltung, Dornach, Switzerland, 1977. They are published as transcripts unrevised by the lecturer. This First English edition was translated by Hanna von Maltitz, and was edited by James D. Stewart, e.Lib. Librarian at the "Rudolf Steiner Archive & e.Lib." Illustrations and artwork were created by Hanna von Maltitz. Thanks to the Basil Gibaud Memorial Trust, this translation has been made available for everyone. David M Horan Rodney S Horan (c) 2020 <http://horanbooks.net> - Language Learning System Specialists Lieutenant Gustl Arthur Schnitzler 2003 With Peter Altenberg and Hugo von Hofmansthal, Arthur Schnitzler was a major modernist of the period of Viennese intellectual activity from 1890 to 1930. Born in 1862 and trained as a physician, Schnitzler increasingly came to be influenced by the psychoanalysis centered around Sigmund Freud. Ultimately he gave up medicine to devote himself to writing brilliant psychological portraits of the Viennese bourgeois and upper classes of the fin de siècle. Schnitzler's most famous works include his dramas, Anatol (1893), Liebelei (1896), and The Green Cockatoo (1899), and the fictions The Lonely Way (1904), The Road Into the Open (1908), Casanova's Homecoming (1918), and Dream Story (1926). Lieutenant Gustl, published in 1901, is among Schnitzler's major short works, and is important as one of the first examples in this century of "stream of consciousness" narration. James Joyce has admitted to have been influenced by this book in writing Ulysses. A tour de force of modernist point-of-view, Lieutenant Gustl is highly critical of Austria's militarism, and resulted in anti-Semitic attacks to Schnitzler when it was first published.

Gold Coins of the World - 9th edition Arthur L. Friedberg

2017-01-05 A unique and indispensable reference work Unsurpassed in content and scope When the first edition of Gold Coins of the World made its debut in 1958, it forever changed the way gold coins were collected, cataloged, traded, and priced. For the first time, one book provided a reliable guide for a subject which previously required an often expensive investment in multiple volumes of literature, some of it rare and antique, and much of it badly out-of-date. With the publication of this pioneering work, Robert Friedberg (1912-1963) established himself as an international icon in the field of numismatic literature. This book, and the 'Friedberg Numbering System' he developed became then, and is still today, the internationally-recognized standard for systematically identifying any gold coin ever made. From just 384 pages in 1958, Gold Coins of the World has expanded to the extent that it now contains more than triple the information of its ancestor. It still stands alone as the first and only book to describe, catalog and price two millennia of gold, platinum, and palladium coin issues from across the globe. From the first coins of the ancient Greeks to the most recently-issued modern commemoratives, they are all here, an astonishing compilation of more than 21,000 individual coin listings accompanied by over 8,000 actual-size photographs. The prices have been completely updated, for the most part raised substantially, to reflect the current market. Entire sections have been expanded, many illustrations have been added or improved, and hundreds of new discoveries and recent issues have been included for the first time. Arthur Friedberg, president of the International Association of Professional Numismatists from 2001 to 2007 and now its Honorary President, and Ira Friedberg, have completely revised and expanded their late father's work. They have had the valuable assistance and cooperation of a who's who of the leading numismatists on every continent in bringing this edition to fruition. For the numismatist, banker, economist, historian, institution of higher learning, or a fancier of the noble metal in all its forms, Gold Coins of the World is a book for every library, public and private.

The People and Culture of the Sioux

Cassie M. Lawton
2016-07-15 The Sioux people have been in North America for hundreds of years. Many centuries ago, ancestors of today's modern members developed their own beliefs, communities, languages, customs, and traditions. Today, some of these practices are still celebrated. This book provides an in-depth view of the history of the Sioux, from their origins to the present day, offering a close look into the lives of the men, women, and children that made the Sioux tribe what it is today.

Encyclopedic Dictionary of Named Processes in Chemical Technology, Fourth Edition Alan E. Comyns 2014-02-21 Since the third edition of this reference was completed, there have been major changes in the global chemical industry. With less emphasis on new processes for making basic chemicals and more emphasis on pollution prevention and waste disposal, petrochemical processes are giving way to biochemical processes. These changes are reflected in the new processes being developed, many of which have their own names. In addition, niche improvements are still being made in petrochemistry, and some of these processes have new names as well. Gathering and defining a large portion of special named processes that may fall outside standard chemical texts or be scattered among industry manuals, Encyclopedic Dictionary of Named Processes in Chemical Technology, Fourth Edition provides a single-source reference on an extensive array of named processes. It provides concise descriptions of those processes in chemical technology that are known by special names that are not self-explanatory. While overviews of the chemical technology industry are present in other books, most of the names defined within this volume are unique to this compilation. This reference includes named processes in current commercial use around the world, processes that have been or are being piloted on a substantial scale, and even obsolete processes that have been important in the past. The length of the dictionary entries reflects their importance and topicality. The text includes references that document the origins of the processes and review the latest developments. Written by a highly experienced and respected author, this user-friendly text is presented in a practical dictionary format that is useful for a broad audience including industrial chemists and engineers.

German Course Part 2

TEXTBOOK John S Slinn

2021-11-07 This book continues the basic approach of Book I. It provides oral-aural material for active use in the classroom. Follow-up in writing can consolidate the practised skills effectively. Students progress systematically, the language structures being presented in everyday situations. A wide range of exercises caters for the needs of all students. Sets of revision exercises keep structures under review and serve further as a foundation for the presentation of new material. A comprehensive appendix will be found useful as a key to the grammar of the German language. Dialogues play a considerable role in order to afford practice in understanding and speaking. They present good up-to-date colloquial and idiomatic German. A wide range of speaking situations will consolidate the student's ability to express ideas orally in German. particular attention has been paid to the vocabulary of Das Zertifikat - Deutsch als Fremdsprache. An important element of the present book is the extensive reading-comprehension material. A rich cultural setting, evoking a picture of the German people, their ways and their land, is provided. Personal impressions of German folk, often presented in a lighthearted, humorous way, add a lively interest. The material has been selected and adapted from various sources. In particular we wish to thank the producers of Jugendscala. Such material provides an excellent basis for the development of both written comprehension and speaking skills as required by modern syllabi. As with Book I, a set of listening skills for each lesson has been developed and these are available. The dialogue sections of each lesson have also been recorded. These sections are coded throughout the book with a special sign. We are pleased to express our gratitude for the assistance and contributions of Mr H. Sturm, Mrs I. Leake, Miss I. Gugger and Miss M. Springorum of the Fort Street High staff in the preparation of these materials. We would further like to acknowledge the many valuable comments made by the Language staffs of both Fort Street and Wiley Park Girls' High Schools in their use of the book. For assistance with the preparation of the speaking skills and for helpful advice with the text, we are most grateful to Mr P. Gannsmann and Mr R. Krieger, German advisers in New South Wales schools. The enthusiasm of teachers and of students using Part I in many schools has been most encouraging and we indicate our warm appreciation. It is trusted that the book will serve

Sample Book Insights: #1 Mileva Marić was born on December 19, 1875, in the town of Titel in the predominately Serbian province of Vojvodina on the southern border of Hungary. She was the first child of Miloš Marić and Marija Ruzić. #2 The Ottoman Empire was in decline, and Hungary began to dissolve its Military Frontier. Miloš returned to civilian life in the year of Mileva's birth. She began middle school in 1886 in Novi Sad, and her father decided that she would receive an education as far as her abilities would take her. #3 After just a year at the Serbian Girls' School, Mileva transferred in 1887 to another middle school, the Royal Lower Secondary School in Sremska Mitrovica on the Sava River not far from her family's home in Ruma. She was determined to continue her education at a gymnasium. #4 Mileva attended the Royal Serbian Gymnasium in Šabac, Serbia, in 1890, and the Royal Croatian Gymnasium in Zagreb, Croatia, in 1892. She was admitted as a private student in 1892, and was given a stipend to attend the gymnasium.

succinct case summaries, THE LEGAL ENVIRONMENT TODAY, SUMMARIZED CASE EDITION, 8E, equips students with the working knowledge of business-related laws recommended by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business while strengthening the reasoning skills they need to interpret and apply them. Using summarized cases from 2013 and 2014 legal decisions, the text challenges students to analyze and resolve legal issues facing today's businesses. Hypothetical situations and exercises, ethical discussions, and international considerations illustrate how business law applies to students' everyday lives and their future careers. In addition to an overall emphasis on how the digital landscape is affecting business law, the text covers the latest on corporate responsibility, financial and credit card reforms, health-care laws, and much more. Anonymous 2018-04-17 The 18th century was a wealth of knowledge, exploration and rapidly growing technology and expanding record-keeping made possible by advances in the printing press. In its determination to preserve the century of revolution, Gale initiated a revolution of its own: digitization of epic proportions to preserve these invaluable works in the largest archive of its kind. Now for the first time these high-quality digital copies of original 18th century manuscripts are available in print, making them highly accessible to libraries, undergraduate students, and independent scholars. Western literary study flows out of eighteenth-century works by Alexander Pope, Daniel Defoe, Henry Fielding, Frances Burney, Denis Diderot, Johann Gottfried Herder, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, and others. Experience the birth of the modern novel, or compare the development of language using dictionaries and grammar discourses. ++++ The below data was compiled from various identification fields
